
Conditions for Granting the No AI Declaration™ Mark

Category 1: Creators and Artists / Subcategory: Literature (including scriptwriting)

Version 1.1 | effective as of: 16 July 2025

1. Introduction

This document is a supplement to the general conditions of Category 1 "Creators and Artists" and defines specific rules for the subcategory Literature (including scriptwriting). All provisions of the main Category 1 document apply, complemented by the conditions set out below.

2. Typical AI Applications (Prohibited)

Within the Literature subcategory (including scriptwriting), the following uses of AI are considered prohibited, among others:

- automatic generation of literary content in any form (novels, short stories, scripts, poetry, essays, reviews, and others),
- editing or re-editing a text by AI in a way that affects its style, content, or structure,
- using AI in decision-making processes related to plot, narrative, or the overall construction of the work.

Clause: the above list is illustrative and not exhaustive.

3. Permissible AI Applications (Auxiliary)

AI may only be used for technical and organizational purposes that do not affect the literary content or artistic value of the work, in particular:

- file management and archiving,
- checking spelling, punctuation, and grammar,
- linguistic correction limited to technical errors, without altering style, tone, or meaning,
- organizational support in the writing process (e.g., work schedules, cataloguing sources).

4. Specific Rules for the Literature Subcategory (including scriptwriting)

- The creative process of writing and editing a literary work must be entirely human-made.
- Works created in whole or in part by AI may not be presented as covered by the declaration.
- AI tools may serve only as auxiliary instruments in technical and organizational aspects.
